opening date set for MB Place

MacMillan Bloedel Place, the company's unique forest information facility at the VanDusen Botanical Display Garden in Vancouver, will be open to the public from September 1.

Special preview days for company employees and their families have been arranged for August 26, 27, and 28, and an announcement will be made shortly about how tickets can be obtained.

The installation of exhibits began at the end of last month and the building will be opened officially on August 31 by W. J. VanDusen, the retired MB executive for whom the Garden is named.
